KUALA LUMPUR, 14 December 2016 – Destini Berhad (“Destini” or the “Group”), a leading Malaysian integrated engineering solutions provider has secured a contract extension to provide maintenance, repair and overhaul (MRO) services and the supply of safety and survival related equipment for the Royal Malaysian Airforce (RMAF) for RM98.20 million.

The contract was obtained by Destini’s wholly-owned subsidiary Destini Prima Sdn Bhd from the Ministry of Defense Malaysia. As part of its scope of work, Destini will be providing MRO services on RMAF’s safety and survival related equipment.

The three-year contract also enables Destini to supply safety and survival related equipment for RMAF as well as provide on-site technical assistance at selected air force bases that may be required on a day-to-day basis.

Dato’ Rozabil Abdul Rahman, Destini’s Group Managing Director said, “We are honored to be granted a contract extension by the Ministry of Defense. This shows that having years of experience in the defense aviation industry has bode well for the company as our capabilities are continuously being recognized by the Ministry.”

“Our defense aviation division is one of Destini’s core business, which has been steadily providing recurring income for the Group throughout the years. We are in a niche market with little competition and the opportunities are endless in this sector,”

“Despite having confidence in the growth of our defense aviation business, we will not rest on our laurels and keep on searching for more opportunities for the Group to grow organically. There is still room for Destini to grow in the commercial aviation, marine, land transport as well as oil and gas sectors which still has ample of prospects,” added Dato’ Rozabil.
